

We know that great teaching is the key to improving outcomes and we are now at a moment in education where, as a lot of the intent and planning work has been completed, now is the time to revisit the actual delivery in the classroom. To support this, in the spring we have a series on Great Teaching for both teachers and leaders.

For Teachers

We are delighted that Dr Niki Kaiser and Rachael Wilson at the Norfolk Research School are going to deliver three refresher pedagogy sessions in person.

Great Teaching – Cognitive Science and Memory, Wednesday 17 January 2024, 1.00pm - 4.00pm, Glen Lodge, Bawburgh

This session will support you to develop research-informed approaches to help your pupils learn and remember more. We'll move beyond learning as simply remembering facts for longer, and reflect on how we can encourage deeper thinking and meaning making. Read more and book: Great Teaching – Cognitive Science and Memory

Great Teaching – Metacognition and Scaffolding, Wednesday 31 January 2024, 1.00pm - 4.00pm, Glen Lodge, Bawburgh

This session will support you to develop research-informed approaches to help your pupils develop independence and achieve more. We'll review practical tools from the EEF, and reflect on how we can support our pupils to understand and do more, drawing on the resources and expertise that we already have. Read more and book: Great Teaching – Metacognition and Scaffolding

Great Teaching – Formative Assessment/Questions with a Maths focus, Thursday 15 February 2024, 1.00pm - 4.00pm, Glen Lodge, Bawburgh

This session will support you to develop research-informed approaches to refine teacher understanding of how to use effective questioning and Formative Assessment to accurately and effectively adapt teaching to pupils' needs. We'll review key Guidance from the EEF and NCETM, and look at practical ways to use this to minimise gaps forming and really move children on within and across lessons. Read more and book: Great Teaching – Formative Assessment/Questions with a Maths focus

These sessions are £135+VAT or 2 credits per person. Book on to all three of our 'Great Teaching' sessions for the discounted rate of £350+VAT or 4 credits per person!

For Senior and Middle Leaders

Great Teaching in a Knowledge-led Curriculum, Wednesday 7 February 2024, 1.00pm - 4.00pm, Glen Lodge, Bawburgh

Is delivering a knowledge-led curriculum having an impact on teaching practice in your school? As a senior or middle leader, are you clear on how the teaching is affecting the impact of that curriculum? This session, led by our Associate and Ex-HMI Maria Curry, is designed to help senior and middle leaders who are working to improve classroom practice. It will cover what 'good teaching' should look like and what it means in relation to delivering a knowledge-led curriculum. £135+VAT or 2 credits per person. Read more and book: Great Teaching in a Knowledge-led Curriculum