

The WalkThrus approach provides clear models for learning, based upon a secure evidence base. In 24/25 we plan to create a Norfolk WalkThrus cohort to provide a network to integrate this pedagogical approach to improving teaching and learning across our schools.

We have secured a significant discount to the subscription fee. Additionally we will be providing CPD, networks and instructional coaching to support the integration of WalkThrus into schools as part of the membership fee.

At our conference on February 1st, Matt Stone, Operations Director of WalkThrus, will lead a session about the impact of WalkThrus as a pedagogical approach. You may have heard of them but have little experience of running them in your school, or you may already have signed up to the WalkThrus platform and want to know how to use it most efficiently in schools.

You are welcome to drop into the session even if you are not planning to attend the conference! The session will be at 2pm at the Kings Centre.

There will be an opportunity for Q&A following the presentation.
